2013 SEC-AAAE Annual Conference – The Great Hunt Networking Event

Team Coverage Provided by Claudia Hollway

Duck beads, clues, no addresses, phone allowed, trivia and a whole lot of pictures texted...this set the SEC-AAAE “Great Hunt” networking event in motion. Nine 7-8 person teams were set loose in Downtown Lexington the afternoon of April 23, 2013.

Many participants enjoyed getting to know others for the first time and all demonstrated true teamwork. There were no DQs (cool lingo for disqualifications so I’ve learned) although they were threatened. And the creativity, ingenuity and good humor involved just goes to show that we can tackle anything the industry throws our way.

First Place went to Team 7, led by Jim Galloway, Valdosta Regional. Kudos go to Sheryl Mayes, who call the Post-it Note factory in Cynthiana, KY (she stayed on the phone during the entire course) to get an answer for the extra credit question, “How many Post-it Notes are made annually?” Having been transferred from department to department, she hit the mother lode. While over 6 billion pieces are sold per year, the company never divulges the number made; it’s a trade secret.

In a standoff to determine the Second Place winner, Team 9, led by Kevin Vandeberg, Huntsville International, answered the tie breaker with lightning speed. The question – “How many barrels are currently held in Warehouse V at the Buffalo Trace Distillery?” Housing every millionth barrel produced, the Warehouse only holds 1 at a time per its license.

Third Place went to Team 5, led by Tommy Booth, Mississippi Aeronautics Division.

In true philanthropic fashion, all teams contributed their cash prizes ($250, $200, $150) to the SAMA Educational Foundation. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

And what recap would be complete without a few stories from the street?

Team 4, led by Mihai Smighelschi, sent a text saying, “Man Down.” Fearing that someone had been hurt and dreading what the rest of the message might say, I laughed ‘til I cried finding a picture of a poor, dead squirrel on the sidewalk. Unfortunately, Mihai stepped on the little body. Sick, but what can I say...the team demonstrated creativity and humor in a macabre way.

Nicole Henderson, Bill & Hillary Clinton National Airport, also of Team 4, noted that she was the only female on her team. Finishing with class and grace amidst the Bad Boyz, she was a true rose among thorns. Faith Carter, Team 6, also earned the distinction.

All but one of the men of Team 6 ran amok in dress shoes, button down oxford shirts and/or sport coats. I suspect casual observers on the street must have thought a bunch of local accountants had too many Bourbons at lunch.

Scott Brockman, Memphis International and Captain of Team 2, demonstrated in every team picture that his arms are apishly long having posed and shot at the same time. Runner up in the pose and shoot category is Jim Williams of Team 1.

Dave Jeffrey and Jay Bouton, bless their hearts, sent way too much photographic evidence that screamed, “Caution, large children at play.”

And while there are so many other stories to tell, a shout out goes to George Kennedy, Green Bean Coffee, who made sure that he was represented in Team 8’s photos; pretty slick, George, the thumb says it all.

A special thank you goes to Scott Lanter, Blue Grass Airport, for being a fabulous judge and route planner. I also want to thank Bruce Carter, AAAE Chair, and his lovely wife, Faith, for participating. Thank you to Eric Frankl, Louise Bowden and Amy Caudill, Blue Grass Airport, for allowing the tradition to continue. And last, but not least, thanks to the 66 Great Hunters who made this an awesome event. Here’s looking to next year!

2013 Team Line Up:

Team 1: Mike Clow, Teri Clow, Judi Olmstead, Michael Troscarr, Bart Gover, Julie Wilsey, Jim Williams

Team 2: Scott Brockman, Ken Moody, Robin Moody, Meaghan Smalley, Tricia Fantinato, Crystal Dow, Mark Dunlap
