Augusta Regional Director
Expects Continued Growth at Airport

Since the arrival of Executive Director Hebert Judon in 2016, Augusta Regional Airport has grown in a lot of ways, and Judon expects the growth to continue for years to come.

"In the next five years, you'll see the airport continue to grow, and I'm going to target that growth on really listening and understanding and analyzing our market and the things they need from an airport," he said. "I envision that we'll add flights, further mature some of these new flights that we've received."

On Jan. 7, the airport reinstated a flight to Washington, D.C., and will be adding a second flight to Dallas-Fort Worth in March. Judon said the D.C. flight is a great example of the airport meeting local customers' needs.

AAAE Chair Torrance A. Richardson, AAE, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Gerald R. Ford International Airport in Grand Rapids, Michigan, presents a check for $25,000 to Southeast Chapter—AAAE President Patrick W. Wilson, AAE, President of the Metropolitan Knoxville Airport Authority in Knoxville, Tennessee. AA AE provided the one-time donation to support the Southeastern Airport Managers Association (SAMA) Educational Foundation, Inc. which is managed by the Southeast Chapter—AAAE Board of Directors.

The Southeastern Airport Managers Association (SAMA) Educational Foundation, Inc. supports twelve $2,000 scholarships annually to preselected colleges and universities with airport management curriculums located in the states represented by the Southeast Chapter - AA AE.

SAMA was formed in 1947 and among its major objectives were the continuing education of its members and the providing of incentives and scholastic scholarships to motivate college and university students to continue in their airport management curriculums and follow their studies to careers in the airports industry. To that end, the Southeastern Airport Managers' Association Educational Foundation, Inc., was incorporated in the State of Florida and annual contributions were made to the Foundation through SAMA's annual conference profits, corporate and personal donations, and the final wills and testaments of some of SAMA's most dedicated members.

In 1997, SAMA and the Southeast Chapter of the American Association of Airport Executives (SEC-AAAE) merged. Today, the Southeast Chapter—AAAE Board of Directors manages the SAMA Educational Foundation, Inc., in memory of and respect to that fine Association.

The Southeast Chapter—AAAE Board of Directors also provides a grant of $20,000 annually to AA AE from the SEC-AAAE Operating Account to support the AA AE Foundation, Inc.

For additional information, see the Chapter website at www.secaaae.org and click the Education dropdown menu.

American Airlines to Begin Dual-Class Service TRI to DFW

Blountville, TN – American Airlines will begin dual-class service on flights to Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport (DFW) beginning June 4, 2020. The aircraft will have 65 seats, nine of which will be first-class seating. This replaces the current single-class service aircraft with 44 seats.

Tri-Cities Airport (TRI) passengers have embraced the new service to DFW, leading to the increased aircraft capacity and improved service.

“We are proud to add more seats between Tri-Cities and our largest hub, Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport,” said Philippe Puech, Senior Manager of Network Planning at American. “This increased commitment highlights the successful partnership between American Airlines, the Tri-Cities Airport Authority and the Tri-Cities community.”

“The airport has seen a remarkable increase in passengers throughout the last year,” said Gene Cossey, Tri-Cities Airport Authority executive director. “The addition of the DFW flight is a huge contributor to this year’s success. In December, our passenger numbers were up 24 percent with 10 percent growth for 2019.”

TRI finished 2019 with more than 448,000 total passengers visiting the area and accessing the world.

“We are happy to see that our community and visitors are embracing the new service on American Airlines,” said Gene Cossey, TCAA executive director. “The Dallas-Fort Worth flight, and continuing our work to increase service, are vital to the region’s business and tourism communities.”

“As a business owner with clients all over the world, I need to be able to access the major airports to get to my clients faster,” said Scott Emerine, Branding Iron Advertising, Marketing and Public Relations co-founder and co-owner. “I have several clients in Dallas. In fact, that is where I am from. I now have the freedom to quickly connect with my customers in Dallas and throughout the West Coast. Flying TRI is fast, efficient, and cost effective. In today’s fast-paced business environment, having the direct flight to DFW really enables me to get business done from the Tri-Cities region. I do not need to relocate. I am just one flight way from anywhere in the world I need to be.”

Asylon Joins Memphis Drone Program Team

Memphis, TN (February 13, 2020) – Asylon, a Philadelphia based security drone robotics company that designs, manufactures and integrates software and hardware, is the latest addition to the Memphis-Shelby County Airport Authority's (MSCAA's) Unmanned Aircraft System (UAS) Integration Pilot Program (IPP) team.

In its role with the Memphis UAS IPP, Asylon will work with FedEx Express and other participants to support perimeter surveillance of logistics warehouses, as well as foreign object debris (FOD) detection on the cargo ramp during day and night operations.

In May 2018, Memphis-Shelby County Airport Authority (MSCAA) was selected as one of 10 lead applicants by the U.S. Department of Transportation to participate in the UAS IPP. The goal of the UAS IPP is to conduct advanced drone operations in selected airspaces to generate data and knowledge for future UAS policymaking. The Memphis UAS IPP is testing various on-airport operations at Memphis International Airport, including aircraft inspections, security monitoring of the ramp, and security/perimeter fence surveillance.

"We look forward to adding another valued partner to the Memphis UAS IPP team," said Scott Brockman, MSCAA President and CEO. "Bringing together industry leaders will help shape the future of drone operations in the U.S."

"Asylon is excited to show how robotics and automation will not only improve the safety and efficiency compared to manned drones but will ultimately be the future of commercial drone operations in the national airspace, especially at airports," said Michael Quiroga, Asylon's Chief Revenue Officer.

More information about this program is available at www.flymemphis.com/drones or by emailing MEMUAS@flymemphis.com
