Winchester Regional Airport Hosts Girls In Aviation Day

WINCHESTER, VA – On Saturday, September 22, 200 girls and their families gathered at Winchester Regional Airport for the second annual Girls In Aviation Day (GIAD). Local girls ages 8-18 participated in activities to learn about aviation with the goal of inspiring them to consider a future career in the industry. The event included aircraft static displays, drone presentations, flight simulators, air traffic control, business aviation, and hands-on aircraft building.

Despite doubling the capacity from last year, all GIAD tickets were claimed just 24 hours after the event was announced. "The community interest in aviation is evident by how many - and how quickly - people registered" event organizer Carley Walker said. Carley is a member of the Winchester Regional Airport Authority board of directors and Director of Development for STEM Flights, a nationwide nonprofit that provides free flight experiences to middle and high school students. "We see a significant demand for aviation programming in our region and we are ready to create more exciting opportunities to satisfy that need."

Winchester Regional Airport Executive Director Nick Sabo also noted that community interest in aviation has increased in recent years. "We want to connect with our community, especially future jobseekers who may not have given the aviation industry more than a passing thought." Citing the ongoing pilot shortage as motivation, Nick added, "This event aligns perfectly with our aspirations to grow the aerospace workforce in the Shenandoah Valley. There is simply no better place to have a genuine aviation experience than at your local airport." Event sponsors include the Winchester Regional Airport Authority, Regulus Group, STEM Flights, and the Winchester Civil Air Patrol Composite Squadron.

About Girls in Aviation Day: Women in Aviation International (WAI) promoted the first international Girls in Aviation Day in 2015, and it has grown every year since. Last year, GIAD reached more than 16,000 participants in 19 countries at over 120 events presented worldwide.

BLUE GRASS AIRPORT TO CONSTRUCT NEW HANGAR FOR LARGE CORPORATE AIRCRAFT

Airport Selects Denham-Blythe Company as its Construction Partner

Lexington, Kentucky—October 3, 2023—The Lexington-Fayette Urban County Airport Board has selected Denham-Blythe to construct a new 50,000-square-foot hangar for large corporate aircraft at Blue Grass Airport. The new hangar includes 30-foot-high doors and is designed to accommodate business jets in sizes up to the Gulfstream G700 and Global Express 7500/8000 platforms. This facility will have the capability to house the largest and longest-range corporate aircraft available on the market.

Construction of the new hangar is set to begin in October 2023 with an anticipated completion in fall of 2024. Denham-Blythe Company is a design-build construction company with over 40 years of experience in the automotive, industrial, food/pharma, healthcare, institutional, and commercial sectors. Since 1976, Denham-Blythe has completed more than 10,000 projects in the United States and Mexico for a diverse customer base including local startups and Fortune 500 companies.

In addition to the 30-foot-high doors, this hangar will include associated offices and storage spaces as well as vehicle parking. This $15.5 million project is yet another example of how Blue Grass Airport is investing in its infrastructure to serve the needs of aircraft owners.

“Blue Grass Airport is committed to advancing its private aviation facilities to meet the evolving needs of the aviation community,” said Eric Frankl, president & CEO of Blue Grass Airport. “This new hangar represents a significant step forward in that effort. The 30-foot-high doors will provide the flexibility to house a diverse fleet of aircraft, and we look forward to providing our corporate aviation partners with an exceptional facility with the utmost conveniences.”
